- 3 - I am completely comfortable with my school's COVID procedures under Plan B.
- 4 - This question does not apply since my child is currently enrolled in the Online Learning Path.

What has been the biggest obstacle for your family under Plan B? *

Childcare
Transportation
Technology access from home
Student motivation/Working independently from home
Finding time to support your child academically during his/her remote learning days.
This question does not apply since my child is currently enrolled in the Online Learning Path.
None

What is the best educational plan for your child? *

Transition to Plan A (full capacity in school, possibly 5 days per week on campus)
Remain in Plan B (half capacity in school, 2 days per week on campus)
Remain in the Online Learning Path (remote learning at home all week)

What has been your greatest success for your child under Plan B? (Please do not respond if your child is in the Online Learning Path).

Your answer

If Plan A (full capacity in grades K-5) were selected by the Board of Education, what date do you feel would be best to transition for your child? *

Earliest possible date (October 5)

End of first 9 weeks (October 21)

After Thanksgiving Break (November 30)

Beginning of second semester (January 7)

This question does not apply since my child is currently enrolled in the Online Learning Path.

If Plan A were chosen by the Board of Education to begin in January 2021, which statement would apply to your family. *

Current Online Learning Path: My child will stay enrolled in the OLP for the rest of the school year.

Current Online Learning Path: My child would move to face to face instruction in January 2021.

Current Plan B Path: My child would stay enrolled in Plan B for the rest of the school year, understanding that he/she may go face to face 4-5 days per week.

Current Plan B Path: If Plan A were implemented for 4-5 days face to face, I would want my child to move to the Online Learning Path for the rest of the school year.
